About HDMS 2026

The Hellenic Data Management Symposium (HDMS) is the annual forum for the Hellenic database community to present and discuss recent advances in the Data Management (DM) field. The 20th HDMS will be held between July 2-3, 2026, in Athens.

The program will include academic and industry talks, keynotes, panels, research poster sessions, demos, student poster sessions, and other social activities. HDMS does not produce formal proceedings and encourages researchers to submit and present work that has recently appeared in other venues. This year we plan to have some sessions in English to be inclusive with the foreign students that are part of the Greek database community, accommodate our non-Greek-speaking participants in general, and enrich our program.

We cordially invite you to participate.

Yours sincerely,
Iraklis Varlamis and Vasilis Efthymiou (Harokopio University of Athens, Greece)
General co-Chairs
